Face of the Hatebook

Introduction

Facebook is the biggest social network worldwide, with more than 2.6 billion monthly active users. There are over 290 million Facebook users in India alone, making it the leading country in terms of Facebook audience size. With an audience of this scale, a vast majority of Facebook's revenue is generated through advertising of which over 90 percent of Facebook ad revenues comes via mobile.¹ As of January 2020, it was found that 98 percent of active Facebook user accounts accessed the platform via mobile phone. In emerging market scenario, it is expected that the Facebook will display a steady growth, especially in countries like India where the market base of inexpensive smartphones and mobile data contracts in itself is expanding.

While for the Facebook the users are simply a set of variable to expand upon their advertisement revenue, for the Facebook users, the platform acts as a 'public square' where many first-time internet users get their primary source of news and opinions. However, due to lack of checks and balances, moderation, and effective responsible action, the public-square has converted into a lynch square. There is a disturbing volume of direct hate speech, disinformation, and calls to violence against minorities, specifically Muslim minorities. There is also an upward trend of rationalizing violence in the name of religion and justifying hate against particular social groups as a mode of historic vindication.

Equality labs has earlier reported to Facebook that such calls to violence have led to attacks on civil society, including the murder of journalist Gauri Lankesh, and general weaponization of hate speech to instigate large-scale communal violence in India. It is also known that the Facebook's platform was used to dehumanize, promote and rationalize the Rohingya Genocide, the Christchurch mass murders, and the recent Kenosha shooting. Furthermore, Facebook, owned WhatsApp groups have also been instrumental in facilitating mob lynching, like the one seen in the JNU student campus violence in February 2020. It is clear to us that the massive amount of hate-speech without a responsible platform moderation and persistent inability of Facebook to remove mis-information, propaganda and Islamophobic content has created such massive levels of polarization that society can quickly erupt into severe violence.

Facebook's monitoring of violent content in languages outside English and from ultra-right wing groups outside ISIS and Islamic groups is also challengeable. Our partners, AMAN foundation and Humanism Project in Australia has already raised this issue with the Facebook Australia Policy Team, in context of counter-jihad, rising islamophobia and Christ church shootings. In this report we are specifically focusing on the Right-wing Hindu groups operating within India (Part A). It is worth mentioning that several of the content shared in this report was also repeatedly reported to Facebook, however, the content was found not violating the community standards even upon requests for human review. We feel that by not being proactive in removal of posts and allowing hate, misogyny and misinformation to continue on the Platform Facebook is in violation of its obligation towards its conscious shareholders (listed in part B). We further review Facebook's recent community standards to enable key and better recommendations, especially in context of CIB.

Finally, we are also sharing a list of pages, profiles, and admins who we have classified as super-spreaders of misinformation and hate-speech based on a non-AI but 'Human Review' of the content.

PART A: Toxic Content

We used specific keywords to identify Facebook groups that are posting Anti-Muslim, and Pro-Hindu Rashtra narrative on Facebook. The call for a Hindu-Rashtra in India has amplified ever since Bhartiya Janta Party came into power. It is now somewhat known that Facebook India's policy head Ankhi Das showed certain favoritism towards BJP and hence perhaps interfered in the democratic process of election. The exact extent of involvement of Ankhi Das in-deconstructing World's largest democracy by providing unequal platform and furthering propaganda and misinformation are already under scrutiny. While we are still unable to make an informed comment on the exact role of Facebook, our choice of keywords is guided by the sentiments expressed by the BJP supporters towards creation of a Hindu-Nation. This Hindu-Nation needless to say is based on the Fascist ideology of Hindutva, more about which can be read here, here and here. It will be sufficient to mention here, that the call for a Hindutva nation requires an eradication of Muslims from social, political, and constitutional membership of India. The Hindu religious war on Islam, thus calls for 'Saffronization' (associated to war color Orange), promotion of 'Hindutva' or 'Sanatan Dharma'² and creation of 'Hindu Rashtra'. Based on these key words we identified over 400 active Facebook groups and sampled content from the ones with maximum users and posts per day. Our concern is not only the amount of traction these groups have generated, but also complete impunity of the group admins also towards law enforcement agencies. It is worth mentioning here that we have launched active police complaints against the admin of the group 'Indian and Friends in Sweden' for posting toxic content, fake news and miss-information against Muslims. Our complain was made in Sweden, however, after 3 months of investigation the Law enforcement of Sweden has told us that due to trans-national nature of the content, the accused and the complainant (all being in different nations) the case lacks a jurisdiction. We have also been told, in confidence, that if any person from Sweden agrees to follow up the complaint it is likely that the admin of this Facebook group, will be held responsible for misinformation and hate-speech within European laws. We would like to submit that this admin is a real person running 16 parallel groups with varying degree of toxic content.

Several other groups like Indian and Friends in Sweden are listed in the remainder of this part. To assist Facebook in human-evaluation of hate speech, misinformation and misogyny, we are also appending a list of groups we have determined to be toxic.

² Please note that Sanatan Dharma in its banal form is a religious ideology believing in universal co-existence and based on certain misogynistic charters of male and Brahmanical superiority exhibited by most religious groups. However, the Hindutva-groups have in the recent years used the term SanatamDhrama to imply a world-wide cultural domination. This can be understood as a Hindu-Jihad in its violent form, and Krishna Conscious in the non-violent banal form.

General profile: The run of the mill right wing propaganda page with posts and comment engagements being pro-govt and pro-Hindutva. The content shared is primarily from the famous right wing page Post Card News. The posts are invariably provocative with dog whistles on Islam. The comments and engagement with these is pure vile. The content is revolting with abhorrent name of calling of Muslims, sometime making open calls for massacre of ‘anti-national’ Muslims. The level of sexists and misogynistic remarks directed at women is also noteworthy. The admins of these groups far from taking down such hateful content actively engage with such group members.

We would like to highlight, that the post shares a picture from ‘PostCard’ which is highlighted by several civil society and internet freedom organizations as being misrepresenting and Islamophobic. PostCard is a Facebook based page, whose business model is completely dependent upon Facebook. An analysis of the content of this page would provide an abundance of fake news, distorted narrative, mis-information and Islamophobia.

We would also like to point the level of toxicity and othering in the comment section – Facebook at the moment has minimal checks in place for reporting comments.

Yet another example from the page is the post shared by ‘Chatrapati Shivaji Fans’ which distorts the Muslim leaders name to Imtiaaz ‘Jalil’, Jalil standing for barbarian, thus showing the level of dehumanization of Indian Muslims. The commentor on the post agreed not only with this dehumanization but also called Muslims to be a ‘spreader of corona-virus’.

Hindutva factories in their attempt to demonize Muslims have been actively calling out famous Bollywood actors like Aamir Khan anti-national and Jihadi. Aamir Khan's recent trip to Turkey where he met Turkish first lady was negatively constructed as his act of Seditious, although India and Turkey are not particularly at odds with each other. This post was once again shared by the India against Anti-Nationals page, which itself has a massive following and reach, the post uses the regular toxic content producer Postcard whose business model is completely reliant on its presence on Facebook.

Not only the narrative of this post is toxic, one can see the comment section is full of Islamophobia, expletives, dehumanization and call for violence against Mr. Khan, a famous superstar of Indian movies.

Misogyny and violence against women: On the same page we also found several examples of misogyny and violence. Here we are using an exhibit talking about Bharkha Dutt an award-winning Indian journalist. PostCard news tried to give a false spin on the police atrocities in the video shared by Bharkha Dutt on her twitter handle. The truth behind the incidence is not known, and hence Bharkha Dutt's claim can also not be verified at this moment. However, we have watched the video and can affirm that the Police personal mercilessly beat the boy publicly. Giving police torture a spin by rationalizing state-violence in the name of law enforcement is to us plain wrong. We invite facebook to make its opinion if such spins are 'freedom of speech' or just 'plain wrong'.

General profile: The group is unofficially related to Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh, an Indian right-wing, Hindu nationalist, paramilitary volunteer organisation. It has posts related with religious fundamentalism, misinformation, hateful posts and islamophobia. The posts are mostly in Hindi.

Misinformation

Translation: “Jai Shree Ram is written more than 2 billion times on Facebook everyday” – Mark Zuckerberg

We are very sure that Mark Zuckerberg hardly ever asked people to write Jai Shree Ram.

Political context of this post is necessary – Jai Shree Ram, or Hail Lord Ram, has become the war-cry of Indian Hindu's in their quest for a Hindu nation. The Polarization of the nation on religious lines started in 1992 with the demolition of Babari Masjid. Hindu's believed the mosque to be built upon Ram's birth place. The polarization reached its peak when Indian Prime Minister, and who is the Prime Minister of a Secular Nation performing Ram temple foundation stone-laying ceremony on the land where Babri Masjid once stood, on 5th of August 2020.

Translation: 50 marriage registration application in Kerala (a state in India) had all the groom as Muslims and all brides as Hindu. Is it by chance or an experiment?

This is a post in context of 'Love Jihad' an ongoing political and social narrative in India which has led to mass-lynching and murdering of several in-love young people who have defied the religion and caste boundaries to marry across religion.

Islamophobia

Translation: Doranacharya (Hindu mythological character) cut his thumb, Laxman (Hindu mythological character) cut a nose (of the demon).but Allah?? (referencing here to circumcision of penis in Islam)... well let it go. Please tell me about today's weather.

Translation: Is there any Islamic nation, which is trying to develop vaccine for CoVid-19 (?) or was Taj Mahal in India was their last innovation?

Translation: Every Rupee donated on the GREEN sheets (of Muslim Sufi Saints) is arranging for the white sheet (funeral) of the Hindu. Awaken, you seculars.

Translation: Vote for Congress if you want that Supreme Court of India should be open at 3am to save a terrorist (INC leader Rahul Gandhi is photoshopped to look like a Muslim). Vote for BJP if you want to kill terrorists at 3am.

The post is from the profile name Heeren Pandya (facebook.com/heeren.pandya.9/about) and needs more contextualization. The person is a namesake of the BJP leader Haren Pandya who was murdered in his car in 2003. There are reasons to believe that Pandya had critical information about the systematic killing of Muslims in Gujrat during 2002 (Gujrat riots). The reference to Modi government killing Muslims at 3 am in the night is a chilling reminder of the 2002 Gujrat Pogroms.

Admin: Several admins.

General profile: The run of the mill right wing propaganda page with posts and comment engagements being pro-govt and pro-Hindutva. The posts are invariably provocative with dog whistles on Islam. The comments and engagement with these are pure vile. The content is revolting with abhorrent name of calling of Muslims, sometime making open calls for massacre of ‘anti-national’ Muslims. The level of sexists and misogynistic remarks directed at women is also noteworthy. The admins of these groups far from taking down such hateful content actively engage with such group members. The comments promote factually wrong content and also promote violence against Muslims and women. The group also spreads unverified Islamophobic claims.

Translation of Post – A population control law is necessary to avoid a motor cycle from becoming a tempo traveler.

Translation of Comments –

Subhash Sharma: Population control is very necessary

Shrinath Paul: The Motorcycle company would also be surprised to know that they had designed it to carry a load of 200 kgs., but how are people managing to carry 400 kgs.

Translation of text written below – Terrorism has a religion. Although we keep mum, everyone knows terrorism belongs to which religion. If this were not true then why bomb blasts happen only during Diwali, Holi and Durga Puja (Hindu festivals). Why do terrorist attacks happen only during Amarnath Yatra (Hindu Pilgrimage) and not during Ramzan or Bakri Eid? Agree or not, Islam is the religion of terrorism. There are more than 150 Islamic organisations all around the world which carry out terrorist activities.

PART B: Conscious Shareholding

We believe by allowing the content such as the one listed in Part A, which is clearly Islamophobic, and allowing Facebook's platform to be used in weaponizing mis-information and hate speech

Facebook is in violation of the code of conduct towards its shareholders, especially the conscious shareholders.

The S in ESG Investing

ESG stands for Environmental, Social, and Governance. Investors and shareholders are becoming increasingly cognizant of the ESG impact of their firms they own and want to own in the future. This stems from a growing investment philosophy of investors to avoid investments in companies which have adverse impact environmentally or socially. The philosophy questions the long-run sustainability of business which perform poorly on those metrics.

There is no one exhaustive list of ESG criterions. ESG criterions are often interlinked, and it can be challenging to classify an ESG issue as only an environmental, social, or governance issue. However, generally speaking the Social score focuses on (but not limited to) the following:

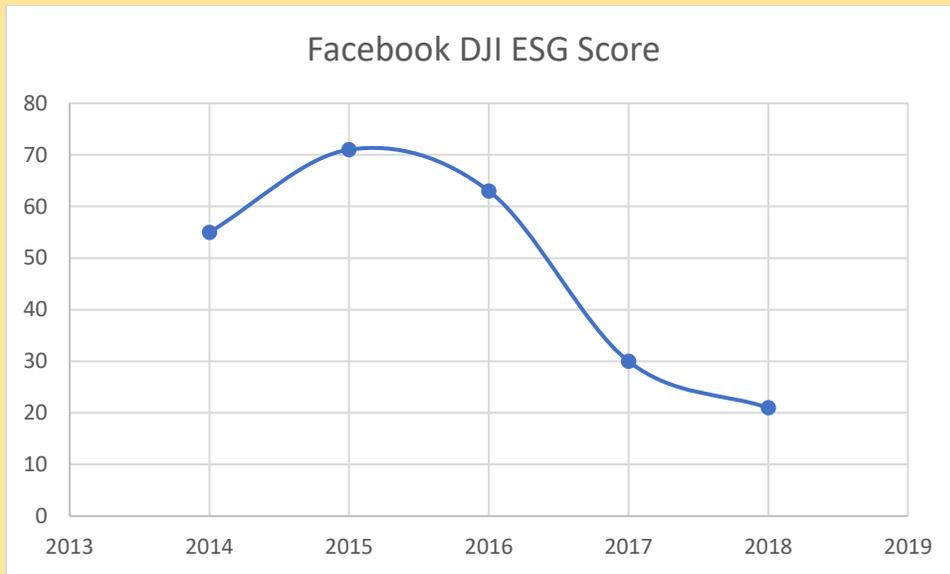

- Customer satisfaction
- Data protection and privacy
- Gender and diversity
- Employee engagement
- Community relations
- Human rights
- Labor standards

Other parameters such as political contributions, Lobbying, Whistleblower schemes, etc fall under the Governance category but have social impact as well.

Tech companies are generally evaluated on their ‘S’ and ‘G’ scores as they have limited direct environmental impact.

Facebook and its record on the S score

For a company like Facebook it is now well understood and accepted that the decisions of the company and its management has severe social ramifications. No other company holds as much sway into what shapes the society we live as does Facebook. Hence it becomes crucially important to assess Facebook on the Social score.

Facebook has had trouble on their social performance for quite a few years in the running. This is clearly reflected in their S&P Dow Jones Index ESG score. Infact, some time in the middle of last year, Facebook was dropped from the S&P ESG Index (an index that tracks companies that practice good environmental, social and governance policies). This was in the wake of the Cambridge Analytica scandal and the role that Facebook may have played in the 2016 US Elections and the Brexit vote. S&P, the company which manages this very popular index, said they had removed Facebook from this index because of “various privacy concerns, including a lack of transparency as to why Facebook collects and shares certain user information.” They followed up by saying “As Facebook’s peers raise the bar in their ESG performance, Facebook will need to do even more to rejoin the ranks of the S&P 500 ESG Index.”

Facebook CEO, Mark Zuckerberg, has testified before U.S. and European lawmakers about Facebook's business practices and what protections it provides to users. However, things have hardly changed in this scandal prone organization.

As Facebook firefights against major privacy concerns it now has another challenge ahead of itself of regulating hate speech. The problem of hate speech possibly has much severer social ramifications. Several advocacy group have rain campaigns against Facebooks very lax guidelines and regulation of hateful and dehumanizing content. Evidence has emerged that Facebook has exercised discretion in enforcing hate speech policy in India so that it can maintain cordial relations with the Islamophobic ruling Hindu Nationalist party.

In light of all this it becomes evidently clear that it would become extremely difficult to justify the presence of Facebook in any investment which considers itself ESG filtered.

Several ESG funds continue to include Facebook in their portfolios

Despite major short comings on the social factors Facebook continues to remain on many ESG investment funds. Vanguard ESG U.S. Stock ETF, an ETF fund with over 1.2 billion dollars under management holds around 40 million dollars' worth of Facebook shares. Similarly, Blackrock, the other investment behemoth of the financial world, holds around 30 million dollars' worth of Facebook shares in its own ESG filtered ETF (iShares MSCI USA ESG Screened UCITS ETF).

Interestingly both these investment firms consider their respective ESG screened portfolios to be companies which have been evaluated based on their impact on society. However, despite clear evidence of the poor performance of Facebook on the social metrics, these investments firms still continue to keep Facebook in their investment funds which they sell to their clients as 'socially responsible' investment.

PART C: Community Standards

From Facebook’s own community standards we have come to understand the following, please see our response and recommendation for better oversight with each of the clause discussed below. We have marked our response in red.

1. Violence and incitement: What not to post on facebook-
 - Threats that could lead to death (and other forms of high-severity violence) of any target(s)
 - Content that asks or offers services for hire to kill others and statements to kidnap a target.
 - Threats that lead to physical harm to any individual or groups.
 - Imagery of private individuals or minor public figures that has been manipulated³ to include threats of violence either in text or pictorially.
 - Any content created for the express purpose of outing an individual as a member of a designated and recognizable at-risk group.
 - Providing instructions on how to make or use explosives.
 - Misinformation and unverifiable rumors that contribute to the risk of imminent violence or physical harm.
 - There are several examples of threats to kill, raze and demolish, persons, properties and communities on the Facebook. These include direct threats and call for action as well as indirect subtle commenting that some people, religion, etc. should perish. Both direct and indirect threats have resulted in real-time violence across the world. These threats have also led to imminent harm – lynching – assembling of armed groups with matchates and firearms to name a few.

Dangerous individuals and organizations

*Facebook*⁴ does not allow any organizations or individuals that proclaim a violent mission or are engaged in violence to have a presence on Facebook and it removes content that expresses support or praise for groups, leaders or individuals involved in these activities. They use machine learning to assess Facebook posts that may signal support for ISIS or al-Qaeda.

³ adding bullseye, dart, gun to head etc.

⁴ <https://about.fb.com/news/2018/11/staying-ahead-of-terrorists/>

While Facebook has disallowed ultra-right wing Islamic organizations from its platform, it has done nothing so far in removing ultra-right wing Christian, Buddhist or Hindu outfits. For example RSS along with its subsidiaries Vishwa Hindu Parishad, Hindu Swayam Sewak mark a formidable presence across platform. They have over 200 groups and the content of these groups can be varying degree of toxicity against Islam. Furthermore, due to India's Prime Minister Mr. Modi himself being from RSS organization, the political and social presence of these groups are morphed. We believe use of AI in removing highly toxic RSS and sister groups is not possible at this stage of NLP, and human insight is required to monitor and take down these groups.

Facebook does not allow, content that praises, supports or represents events that Facebook designates as terrorist attacks, hate crimes or mass shootings, terrorist organizations and terrorists and their symbols(if any) which include :-

- Any non-state actor(who engages, attempts and promotes such activities)
- *Hate organizations*⁵ and their leaders and prominent members
- Mass and multiple murderers (including attempts)
- Human trafficking groups and their leaders
- Criminal organizations⁶ and their leaders and prominent members

Yet, Facebook has conveniently allowed content glorifying 2002 Gujrat Riots, Delhi riots of 2020 and everyday violence and police atrocities

Coordinating harm and publicizing crime

Exception

Facebook allows people to debate and advocate for the legality of criminal and harmful activities, as well as draw attention to harmful or criminal activity that they may witness without advocating for them.

Prohibition of content that comes under the following:-

- Harm against people

⁵ Any association of three or more people that is organised under a name, sign or symbol and that has an ideology, statements or physical actions that attack individuals based on characteristics, including race, religious affiliation, nationality, ethnicity, gender, sex, sexual orientation, serious disease or disability.

⁶ Any association of three or more people that is united under a name, colour(s), hand gesture(s) or recognised indicia, that has engaged in or threatens to engage in criminal activity.

NOT FOR CIRCULATION – PRELIMINARY REPORT

- Harm against animals
- Harm against property (Vandalism, hacking, theft)
- Voter and/or census fraud
- Voter and/or census interference (Usually cases of misrepresentation⁷)

They include a label for this type of content:-

- Imagery depicting a high-risk viral challenge if shared with a caption that condemns or raises awareness of the associated risks.

Facebook in India has conveniently allowed Voter mis-information and has even shared key voter data with the BJP prior to 2019 elections. Misrepresentation and misinformation promoted through BJP channels is still visible in the massive user groups including few with over 1 million likes and users.

Bullying and harassment

Exception

Context and intent matter, and we allow people to share and re-share posts if it is clear that something was shared in order to condemn or draw attention to bullying and harassment. It should be noted that Facebook's policies provide heightened protection for users between the ages of 13 and 18.

They distinguish between public figures⁸ and private individuals⁹ in this regard. The platform also has a Bullying Prevention Hub¹⁰, which is a resource for teenagers, parents and educators seeking support for issues related to bullying and other conflicts.

Prohibited content:-

- Repeatedly contact someone in a negative manner (unlawful, unsolicited, sexually harassing way)
- Target anyone maliciously
- Target another private individual or public figure who is a minor

⁷ https://www.facebook.com/communitystandards/false_news

⁸ "For public figures, we remove attacks that are severe as well as certain attacks where the public figure is directly tagged in the post or comment"

⁹ "For private individuals, our protection goes further: we remove content that's meant to degrade or shame, including, for example, claims about someone's sexual activity"

¹⁰ <https://www.facebook.com/safety/bullying>

- Target public figures by purposefully exposing them(adults and minors)
- Target private individuals or involuntary minor public figures
- Target private adults (who must self-report) or any private minors or involuntary minor public figures
- Target private individuals who are minors
- Target private individuals (who must self-report)

Our self-reporting over the past week, has resulted in almost all the complaints being rejected by the Facebook. Only on 2 occasions out of over 50 were the posts taken down. Several of these complaints were raised because of commenter using expletives against one of the writer of this report. Facebook AI instead advised us to leave the group or block the person. Expletives used in Hindi or with special character or by way of slag were most hard to be dealt with.

Objectionable content

Hate Speech

Facebook defines hate speech as a direct attack on people based on what we call protected characteristics¹¹ and "attack" as violent or dehumanizing speech, statements of inferiority, or calls for exclusion or segregation. The sharing of such this is prohibited on the platform with an exception of sharing them for spreading awareness and educational purposes, for a positive support group, for humor and social commentary but the intention of sharing these should be clear.

They have separated these attacks depending on their severity in three different tiers:-

Tier 1 Content targeting a person or group of people.

Tier 2 Content targeting a person or group of people on the basis of their protected characteristic(s) along with:-

- Generalizations that state inferiority (in written or visual form) – Physically ,mentally and morally.

Tier 3 Content targeting a person or group of people on the basis of their protected characteristic(s) with any of the following:-

¹¹ Race, ethnicity, national origin, religious affiliation, sexual orientation, caste, sex, gender, gender identity and serious disease or disability and also if even one of these is paired with age.

- Explicit exclusion, social, political, economic exclusion and even slurs¹².

We found Facebooks performance on this parameter highly objectionable and appalling .

We are aware that Facebook has started to take note of Organized Inauthentic behaviors promoted through the use of Bots. We would like to point out that within its definition the Facebook should also include political IT cells, especially those peddling fake news and propaganda. These IT cell contain massive amount of youth with thousands of following and millions of reach on Facebook and its necessary to identify and ban such individual accounts which are high spreaders of misinformation.

¹² slurs are defined as words commonly used as insulting labels for the above-listed characteristics.
